Rahul Ashok Jeyalakshmi

has successfully completed the online, non-credit Specialization

Sustainable Cities and Communities

Congratulations! You have completed all three courses of Sustainable Cities and Communities - a Lund University Specialisation. As part of this Specialisation, you have developed essential skills based on concepts for creating a green economy, ranging from urban living labs and sustainability, through the sharing economy, to nature-based solutions. You are now equipped to drive change in cities and communities towards sustainable, climate friendly, healthy and prosperous futures, having gained a deeper understanding of the opportunities and challenges for sustainable cities and communities as engines for greening the economy!
